

QUALITY. SUSTAINABILITY. COMMUNITY.

At AIS, great products are just part of the story.

What makes a product truly great? At AIS, it's about more than design and usability. We believe a great product is one that's made with integrity and ingenuity. These values are evident in our unwavering commitment to lean manufacturing processes that save time, money and resources. We were first on the path to sustainability, leading the industry forward.

Today, you'll see that focus everywhere you look, from the new and recycled materials we use to the way we power our facilities to how we divert surplus furniture from landfills. And as part of the larger community, we strive to go above and beyond, giving back as individuals and as a corporation.

It starts with an award-winning team.

AIS was founded on the belief that we could do things better, and that has driven our teams forward since day one. Our employees' can-do attitude has revolutionized the industry, earning awards for breakthrough design and continually advancing manufacturing in exciting ways.

Solutions for every workplace.

From flexible, power-friendly open plan or benching workspaces to sophisticated private offices, our high-performing AIS systems, casegoods, tables and seating solutions reflect the widest range of aesthetics and support any workstyle. Even better, our innovative manufacturing processes ensure quick delivery and attractive pricing.

Whether you're a two-person firm or a global enterprise, AIS and our broad dealer network are ready to help you create work environments that best support your people and their unique needs.

How can we help?

From the talent we hire to the way we design, manufacture and distribute our products, AIS has always thought differently.

Let us put some of that thinking to work for you.
